It is submitted without further recommenda-

Ran away from the subscriber, living at Alti-

A BRIGHT mulatto man, named GRIF-FIN, sometimes calls himself GRIFIN DARLING, about 25 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 8 inches high, well, though not very stout made, a very light mulatto, grey eyes, dark hair and whiskers neatly cut, being an excellent barber and accustomed as a waiter all his life, when spoken to abruptly is much addicted to stuttering—had on when he eloped, a blue round jacket with red cape and pantaloons of cloth, Suwarrow boots, white hat, and black handkerchief about his neck—it is probable he will change his dress as he has a variety of good clothing with him. Having gone off without any provocation, I have some reason to believe this fellow is making his way to Baltimore or Philadelphia, with an expectation of imposing himself as a freeman. If he is secured in jail so that I get him again, out of the state of Virginia or give Two Hundred Dollars; if otherwise secured so that I get him again, One Hundred

A Horse-stealer.

A travelling man with four, or five horses for sale, (which were driven by a mulatto man rather elderly looking, and a short round made fellow) sold a chunky made black poney for forty four dollars, during a rainy ride from the falls bridge to the red house tavern, in Fairfax county, on the 19th March, to Aaron Miller, of said county; which horse had been some days before taken from a waggon at Cameron, but was pursued and recovered from the thief who deluded the wa-rant and got off. He said his name was Olen Johnson, from Elk Run, appeared to be about 25 years of age, well looking, with redy red hair and whiskers and was well dressed; he said he had been selling horses in George Town and was going to Leesburg—he had a mule and two white matched grey horses in the drove. He also sold or exchanged a loose thick overcoat, which appears since to have been taken from Crawford's sta-vern shortly before the 19th. If any person can discover or trace either of the above named dealers, thereby leading to an exposure of them, by calling on or writing to Mr. Snowden, the Printer of the Alexandria paper, shall receive Ten Dollars reward therefor. He took the Centerville road from Wren's tavern.

FOREIGN NEWS.

By the Sally, capt. Sutton, which arrived here yesterday from London, we have received London papers to the 16th of February.

In the debates in the English parliament, we have not found anything on American affairs. The ministers appear determined neither to go to war, nor to relax their orders in council. The papers which passed in all the late negotiations with the U. S. have all been laid before parliament and published. Mr. Pinkney and his lady were unusually constant in their attendance on the royal levees and drawing rooms; and a ministerial paper in noticing the ambassador's presence at the queen's drawing room, thus arranges them—American, Hessian, Persian, Portuguese, Spanish, &c.

The Hon. Mr. Wellesley had sailed from England on a mission to Cadiz. He will probably follow the Junta to South-America.

The reports of a treaty between France and America, and the relaxation of Bonaparte's decrees, had evaporated. American vessels continued to be captured and sent into the ports of France, and her colonies. Napoleon had not set off for Spain. The Dutch official Gazette had announced it having been settled, that the future bride of the French emperor would be Catharine Pauline, sister to the emperor of Russia, who is in her 31st year; and that a French officer had been sent to St. Petersburg to escort the Russian princess to Paris.

It was reported the Toulon fleet had put to sea; and that Lord Collingwood was in pursuit of it.

We find no mention made in the London papers, of sending a new minister to the U. States, or of recalling Mr. Jackson.

The famous French frigate La Cannelle, from India, is among the prizes recently sent into England.

The ex vice-president Burr, was said to be in Paris, plotting mischief.

Extract of a letter from an American gentleman in Paris, dated Jan. 21.

"All will depend on the final result of our affairs with this country; and I think to one can judge the decisions of our government on their hearing of the outrage committed on our property at St. Sebastians and Naples, which was as unexpected here as the measure appears unjust! The only explanation this government has given to our minister is that 'It is a political measure.'"

LONDON, Feb. 13.

An American gentleman landed, on Sunday, at Dover, from on board an American vessel from Calais, with despatches for Mr. Pinkney; and the ship proceeded on her homeward passage. It seems that Americans, who are carried into France for trading with this country, are treated as badly as the English. The intelligence from France is, that an embargo has been laid in the French ports along shore, for some days. A squadron is said to be fitting out at Denmark.

In the admiralty court were tried this day, viz. the Eutaw, Grant, an American vessel in ballast, from Sylt to Amsterdam, condemned; Betsey, Fielders, do. further proof ordered.

The following is a specimen of the NON CHALANCE with which the Paris papers mention the capture and burning of American vessels:

PARIS, Jan. 7.

The Confidence privateer, burnt on the 18th ult. the American brig John, which was on her passage from London to St. Mary's, one of the Azores. The same privateer has sent into Brest, the Calbe, of Petersburg, Capt. Moore, from Lisbon for Liverpool, with tobacco, pitch and pipe staves. This prize had 13 Americans and a passenger on board.

The Neapolitan privateer Le Dure, has sent into Naples, the 12th ult. a Salem brig laden with colonial produce.

ROTTERDAM, Jan. 9.

Arrived, the American ship Susannah, Captain Delano, from New-York, with potash and tobacco, a prize of the Wag-Jam and Laup Garoon privateers.

February 1.

Letters from Tonnigen of the 22d inst. state, that the commission appointed to examine the cargoes brought there by American vessels, had commenced their operations, and had, at the above date ordered the restoration of the cargoes of the Pickering, Capt. Carver; Telegrapher, Atkins, Boston; 3 Suns, Woodward, Salem; Devotion, Miller, New-York; Orion, Miller, do. Concordia, Johnson, do. Thomas, Law, do. and Pittsburg, Yardsley, of Philadelphia. It was also expected that the cargoes of the other American vessels, whose papers had been delivered to the commission, would be given up.

Arrived in the Texel, January 29, the Mary, Eccles, from Boston, a prize to the French privateer, Duinkerquois.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 2.

According to letters from Copenhagen, of the 20th ult. the papers of the Betsey, Captain Wisard; Native, Hill, & Commerce, Hardy, which vessels had been seized by the guard-ship at Tonnigen, are ascertained to have been fabricated in England, where it appears, the cargoes, consisting of sugar, coffee, &c. were laden for English account. The crews were a mixture of all nations, being Swedes, and a very small proportion Americans.

COCKPIT, Feb. 10.

Was tried before the lords commissioners of appeals, the Enterprize, Newell, under American colors, with hides, copper, &c. from Falmouth to Rotterdam, was detained by the Cracker, and restored by the admiralty court, on paying the captors expenses; from the latter clause the captors appealed and requested their costs and damages. Their lordships however affirmed the sentence and condemned the appellants in the costs of the appeal.

The Robert, Parri, from Halifax, at Plymouth. The Vigilant, Coombs for Virginia, was taken and carried into Westerbhilling, 9th ult. The Saucy Jack, for Malta to Gibraltar, is taken. Sequestered at Naples, the Caroline, of Boston; Margaret; Romp; Hercules; and Victory, of Salem. Ship America, of Salem, carried into Africa by a French privateer.

The Betsey, Small, from Smyrna to Philadelphia, and the Clapper for do. to London, have been taken, retaken and arrived at Gibraltar. A convoy with 40 sail of merchant vessels sailed from Plymouth, in England, Feb. 10. One of the convoy was an American vessel laden with flour in working out, got on the German rock, at Devil's Point, and went on her side; got off with considerable damage to her bottom and is gone into dock. The Jason, Swaine, from Petersburg is lost near Dagersott—part of her cargo saved. The American ships Two Brothers, from Boston, and Independence, Dasher, from Baltimore, were captured in January and carried into St. Jean de Luz. Three other American vessels were captured near that port.

The American ship Triumphant, Deane, from Fayal, was captured in January by the Phenix privateer from Bourdeaux. The ship John Adams, Burnham, from N. York to Teneriffe, was abandoned at sea November 11, being a complete wreck. The Fame of Salem, and a ship of 500 tons, belonging to the said port, were taken by privateers and carried into Corsica. The French privateer La Gaseen, 16 guns and 120 men, from St. Maloes, was captured 5th of February, and carried into Plymouth.

TORRIS, Feb. 12.

Arrived, the frigate built ship Oliver Elsworth, from St. Sebastians, detained on the 4th instant, by the Lion privateer. The American sailors refused to work the ship, of course the duty fell heavy on the part of the privateer's crew on board her.

FALMOUTH, Feb. 2.

Arrived, the British packet Duke of Kent, 30 days from New York.

CORK, Feb. 2.

Arrived, Anna-Maria, New-York.

LONDON, February 16.

By the Lily from from Cadiz, we have a confirmation of the advance of the French on Cadiz; and that the Spanish fleet had moved down, and were anchored outside our squadron. Castanos is again at the head of the army.

IMPORTANT.—From the London Chronicle.

London, Feb. 5. The public will recollect that some days ago, accounts were received that American vessels in the ports of Naples, and also in the ports of Spain, were ordered to be confiscated. The following notice of the fact from genuine authority, was yesterday made known in the city.

"I have received intelligence from France, on which I rely, that an order has been issued to bring to sale the American ships and cargoes, captured and brought to Naples, and that another order had been issued to seize and confiscate all such as had arrived, or might arrive, in those

February 13.

The Paris-Moniteur of the 3d contains an official account of the capture (Dec. 13) of the British frigate Juno, by the French frigates Clarinda and Renommee. The French pay a high tribute of applause to the bravery and skill of capt. Shortland who commanded the Juno; and who was wounded in the action. The enemy were in the act of boarding from both frigates when the Juno struck.

The government of Quito have invited their brethren of old Spain to emigrate to America, rather than to submit to France.

The committee of enquiry on the subject of the Walcheren expedition, set constantly for the examination of witnesses; and publish daily a copy of their minutes.

RICH PRIZE.

On Thursday arrived at Plymouth, the famous French frigate Cannonier, of 44 guns, prize to the Valiant, captain Blight. She has a very valuable cargo of colonial produce, said to the amount of 150,000 pounds, besides a quantity of specie.

DEALE, Feb. 14.

Arrived the American frigate John Adams, from the eastward, and sailed immediately for the westward.

(VIA NEW-YORK.)

LONDON, March 7.

Lord Somerville's Spring Show.

After the business of the day on Tuesday, about 560 sat down to dinner at Freemason's Tavern. Lord Somerville in the chair. The premiums being distributed his lordship amongst other toasts gave

"Mr. Pinkney, the American minister, and may harmony always prevail with those who speak the same language."

Mr. Pinkney rose, amidst a loud thunder of applause, which for some time prevented his speaking, he then said:

MY LORD—I beg your lordship and this company to be persuaded that I am very grateful for the unexpected notice which you and they have been so good as to take of the United States and their minister. I thank you, in the first place, for my country, and I hope I shall not be thought very presumptuous if led, or even misled, by my wishes to conclude that personal kindness may have had some little share in prompting your conduct on this occasion, I thank you for myself. I trust, my Lord, it is scarcely necessary for me to say how sincerely I join in the wish which has been so well received by the noblemen and gentlemen here present, that there may be perpetual good understanding between Great Britain and the United States. An American minister has in truth no merit in anxiously desiring cordial friendship with this country on terms consistent with the honor of his own, and your lordship will allow me to rejoice that there do exist on both sides the most powerful and obvious inducement to cultivate such friendship. We need not trouble ourselves to enquire whether it be true, as some politicians have pretended, that interest is the only tie of sufficient strength to hold independent nations together as friends, for we are fortunately bound in amity by all sorts of ties, which I fervently hope we shall not, even if it were possible that we should be so disposed, be strong enough to break. No reflecting and impartial man can doubt, that the true interests of Great Britain and America are compatible in all cases, the same in most. A liberal and comprehensive view of these can lead to no other conclusion than that they are calculated to cherish and invigorate each other. But a sense of this compatibility and identity of interests, effectual as it ought to be in communicating a character of steady friendship to our relations, is not the only pledge of harmony between us; for a thousand kindly influences, with which calculation has no concern, combine to form an auxiliary pledge, little inferior in strength, I should hope, far superior in moral beauty. I am sure, to the other. These influences, my Lord, it would be a pleasing, and perhaps not unprofitable task to review in detail, and by renewing, to give them freshness and augmented activity, the noble and salutary purposes of peace and kindness. But I have already trespassed too long on your indulgence, and, indeed, I have not trespassed upon that discretion which so emphatically becomes my situation. I beg leave to drink the health of your lordship, &c.

March 8.

We last night received a series of minor Paris journals to the 2d inst. in which there is much to gratify the public curiosity, and something to interest the public sensibility. The grand secret is at last divulged, and the drama of the war of Austria has terminated, like other exhibitions, in the marriage of one of the rival princes into the family of his competitor. The archduchess Maria-Louisa, we are told, in an article from Vienna, is the destined bride of Napoleon; and it is added, that the contract is signed by the parties concerned. We have also inserted a most extraordinary document, from the French to the Dutch minister of foreign affairs, in which some new ideas of authority are introduced, better suited to the principles of the modern logicians of France, than to the maxims of the jurists of the last century. The official note to general Armstrong on the proposed relations between France and America, is another specimen of dialectics, of which our readers will admire the ingenuity, if they do not assent to the doctrine.

In the former of these documents the fact is officially announced of the recent, as it is quaintly termed, of Louis from Holland, or, in other words, of a sentence of deprivation of his kingly dignity having been passed upon him, he not being a sufficiently convenient instrument to administer the hatred of Napoleon towards this country. Holland again is to be taken possession of by French troops, and to be fast linked in the continental system.

CHARLESTON, April 6.

We are informed by a passenger, arrived this morning, in the brig Eliza, Capt. Taylor, from St. Bartholomews, that on the 12th ult. the French privateer-Superior went in there, in company with an unarmed Swedish schooner, commanded by Captain John Portelle, who it was understood was dispatched for that purpose, and also to take the money out of the privateer, in consequence of a secret understanding between the Swedish governor and Capt. Jean Marie, who had previously some conference on the subject. The property carried into St. Bartholomews, which was immense, was daily exposed at public sale, as forfeited to the Swedish government, but the distribution of the proceeds among the privateersmen, according to their respective shares, fully exposed the fraud. Some days before the Eliza sailed, a British armed brig and a frigate arrived off St. Bartholomews, and were still at anchor there. This greatly alarmed the inhabitants, who were in daily expectation of an attack. The principal object of the British was to demand of the Swedish governor the privateer and the property she had captured, which was refused; in consequence of which a despatch had been sent to admiral Cochrane, for instructions. There was no doubt the privateer would be taken by force. It is further stated, that the Swedish governor was fitting the Superior as a cutter, to be commanded by Captain Portelle, who is to be sent to Sweden, on the subject of what they call her capture. Some time before the Superior entered St. Bartholomews, she captured near St. Domingo, a schooner, said to be American, under Spanish colors, having a valuable cargo on board, which they caused to be landed on the beach at St. John's, where it was taken possession of by the Swedish government. This was also said to be in consequence of a private understanding between the governor and privateersmen.

Ten Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on the night of the 19th instant, a negro man, named TOY, aged about 23 years, 5 feet 4 or 6 inches high, slender in his form and has a good countenance. The above reward will be given for delivering the said runaway to the subscriber, or committing him to some jail. If taken out of this state an additional compensation will be made.

NOTE

From the Minister for Foreign Affairs to Mr. Armstrong, Minister Plenipotentiary from the United States.

"The undersigned having rendered an account to the emperor and king of the conversation which he had with Mr. Armstrong, minister plenipotentiary from the United States of America, his majesty has authorized him to return the following answer:

"His majesty considers his decrees of Berlin and Milan as conformable to the principles of eternal justice, if they were not the compelled consequence of the orders of the British council and above all of that of November, 1807. When England proclaimed an universal sovereignty by the pretension of making the universe submit to a right of navigation, and of bringing the industry of every nation under the jurisdiction of her parliament, his majesty considered it the duty of all independent nations to defend their sovereignty, and declared denationalised the vessels which, ranging themselves under the dominion of England, recognized the sovereignty which she arrogated over them.

"His majesty distinguishes the visit and the recognition of the vessel. The recognition has no other object but to ascertain the reality of the flag. The visit is an inferior inquest made notwithstanding the reality of the flag is ascertained, and of which the result is either the pressing of individuals, the confiscation of merchandise or the application of arbitrary laws or dispositions.

"His majesty could not but attend to the proceedings of the U. S. who, without making any complaint of France, comprised her in their acts of exclusion; and in the month of May prohibited the entry into their ports of French vessels, under the penalty of confiscation. Immediately that his majesty was informed of this measure, he ordered a reciprocity to be used towards American vessels, not only in his own territories, but also in the countries under his influence. In the ports of Holland, Spain, Italy and Naples, American vessels were seized, because the Americans had seized French vessels. The Americans cannot hesitate as to the part which they ought to take. They ought either to break the act of their independence, and become again, as before the revolution, subjects of England, or take such measures that their commerce and industry may not be tarified by the English, which would render them more dependent than Jamaica, which at least has an assembly of representatives and its privileges.

"Men without policy, without honor, and without energy, may well alledge that they will submit to pay the tribute imposed by England because it is light, but will not the English feel that they would rather have the principle admitted than increase the tariff, because, if this tribute, now light, should become insupportable, those who had refused to fight for honor must then fight for interest.

"The undersigned frankly confesses that France has every thing to gain by giving the Americans a good reception in her port. Her commercial relations with neutrals are advantageous to her, and she is not in any manner jealous of their prosperity. Great, strong and rich, she is satisfied, if by her commerce or that of neutrals, her exportations give a suitable development to her agriculture and manufactures.

"It is scarcely thirty years since the states of America became an independent government in the bosom of the new world, at the price of the blood of many immortal men, who perished on the field of battle, in order to shake off the leaden yoke of the English monarch. These generous men were far from supposing, when they thus sacrificed their blood for the independence of America, that a question would so soon arise of imposing on it a yoke heavier than that which they had shaken off, in submitting its industry to the tariff of British legislation, and to the orders of council of 1807.

"If then American minister will enter into an engagement that the American vessels shall not submit to the orders of the English council, of Nov. 1807, nor to any decree of blockade unless that blockade shall be real. The undersigned is authorized to conclude every species of convention, tending to renew the treaty of commerce with America, and in which shall be arranged all the measures proper to consolidate the commerce and prosperity of the Americans.

"The undersigned has thought it his duty to answer the verbal overtures of the American minister by a written note, in order that the president of the United States may better know the amicable intentions of France towards the United States, and her favorable disposition towards American commerce. (signed) DUC DE CADORE."

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, April 11.

Mr. Randolph said that the house was already apprized of the death of General William Washington, in whom our country had lost one of her most illustrious sons. It is very far from my intention, sir, (said he) by any amplification of mine to lessen the impression of that merit which the bare mention of his name is calculated to make on the mind of every man who hears me. It is not the least unequivocal proof of that worth that it was not extinguished by the effulgence of his great kinsman's glory, with which it was daily brought into comparison. The reputation which can stand such an ordeal as this, is far beyond the praise or blame of an humble individual like me. If to the proposition which I am about to offer an objection should arise in the breast of any man who hears me on the score of the rank which that gentleman bore in the late American army, permit me to suggest that it is a testimony to valor and not to rank. It is not a mere respect to rank which I wish the house to pay. It is not in rank to add to the infamy of an Arnold or to the glory of a Washington. I will therefore move the following resolution:

Resolved That the members of this house do wear crape on their left arm during the remainder of the session, as a testimony of respect for the memory of Wm. Washington, late a lieutenant colonel in the revolutionary army.

Mr. Smith said he hoped there was no man who felt more respect or gratitude to those men who served their country during the revolutionary war than he did; but this resolution appeared to him to be improper on several grounds. I agree (said Mr. S.) with the gentleman from Virginia that the rank should have no effect on the opinions of members of this house on such a subject as this. But it is not singular as to the many heroes who have served us during the revolution, who have now gone to their long home, no notice has been taken of their merits by us, nor any step taken to confer upon them the honor now proposed to be conferred on this officer, whom I acknowledge to be meritorious? We have seen a Green die, and certainly no man exceeded him in rank or merit, the general in chief excepted. We have also seen a Wayne die, and I do not recollect that such a tribute was proposed to any man who served us during the revolution. Shall we then by passing this resolution sanction an idea that that col. Washington was entitled to more respect than others? Would not the passage of the resolution be considered as an indirect censure on the other revolutionary characters who have gone from us? When the other heroes fall that are still existing, we must, if we pass this resolution, pay the same respect to their merits, or suppose them to have been inferior. This would introduce into the legislature invidious comparisons, and, instead of legislating, we shall be sitting as judges upon character. In every respect I think the resolution objectionable.

The question was taken on the resolution without further debate; and passed in the negative—ayes 30.

MONDAY, April 16.

[Taken for the Alexandria Gazette.]

Sundry bills from the Senate, were read and referred.

On motion of Mr. Lewis the committee of the whole was discharged from the consideration of the bill to incorporate a company for the purpose of making sundry turnpike roads in the District of Columbia. The bill was taken up in the house, read a third time and passed.

The bill authorizing drawback on merchandise transported by land between Newport and Boston, was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading to-morrow.

On motion of Mr. W. Alston, the house resolved itself into committee of the whole on the bill to lay additional duties on goods, wares and merchandise—Mr. BASSETT in the chair.

Mr. Taylor moved to lay the bill on the table for the purpose of taking up the resolution to reduce the army and navy. After some debate the motion prevailed, 49 to 43—the resolution was therefore taken up.

Mr. Mason moved to amend the resolution to disband the whole army.

After some debate Mr. Nelson moved to have the committee rise and report progress. This motion was negatived. Mr. Johnson then made a speech of some length. He said though he was for energetic measures, he should vote to reduce the army.

FOR SALE,

THE Long Glades, (where the white house tavern and store lately stood) containing 1350 acres of land, situate three miles from the great falls of Potomac, in the county of Fairfax, on the post road from Alexandria and the city of Washington, twenty miles from the former and fourteen from the latter.

It can be divided so as to give an equal proportion of woodland, of which it has a sufficiency to each part. There is no tract of the same size in the county that is better watered than has a larger proportion of Meadow land, nor no one in the state on which Plaster of Paris answers better.

May meet with as ready sale as at Alexandria or Washington.

There are on it two Mill Seats, a Stone Quarry, and an excellent situation for a Distillery.

I will give a bargain in one half or the whole of the above property, on a liberal price, or receive approved property in this district in payment.

ALSO,

A Farm in Loudoun, containing 214 acres, adjoining the lands of Ludwell Lee, esq. on the south side of Goose Creek, five miles from Leesburg.

It has comfortable improvements, is well timbered and watered.

ALSO,

A tract of Land, containing 356 acres, in the district of Columbia, between 7 and eight miles from Alexandria, and about four from George Town.

More than half this land is in valuable timber, has a large quarry of building stone, and is well watered. The meadow land is bounded above a mile by four mile run. The road from George Town and Washington goes through it.

The improvements are indifferent. It has several elegant sites for building that command a prospect of Washington and the adjacent country.

For this and the farm in Loudoun I will give a generous credit or exchange for property in Alexandria.

CINCINE MEDICINES

THE LATE RICHARD LEE, JR. OF NEW YORK.
As prepared from the original recipes in possession of the subscriber, his widow, by whom they are prepared and without whose signature none are genuine.
Obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthma, &c.

Are immediately relieved and speedily cured by the use of HAMILTON'S ELIXIR FOR COUGHS.

DEAR BOUGHT: Experience has taught thousands that oily and heated medicines, joined with strong opiates or sleepy drugs, repeated doses of which flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands, that the common opiates and balsamics, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs, in their most distressing symptoms: that they load the stomach and impair the digestion, inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing and excite fever. But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects. A single trial will prove, that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common healthful perspiration—that it dislodges and evacuates the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humor which irritates them, and finally discharges it. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder for the sake of momentary relief for the present some of its painful effects.

To parents who have children afflicted with the whooping cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Selected Recommendations.

Being desirous to make public for the good of others, the excellent quality of Hamilton's elixir, prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it; which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed with all the horrors of immediate suffocation. Add to these a constant pain in my breast, and a cough, a great loss of strength & flesh, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying he had used it in his practice and always found it to do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's, and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it & was soon strong to attend to business. On taking cold, some of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.

George Benner, jun.
no. 11. Budd street, Philadelphia.
Mrs. H. Lee, New York.

Mr. Abijah Henly, Bridge street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's Elixir, of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a very severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening sweats when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper. He has been upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints; and desires to give his public testimony in favor of this invaluable medicine.

Itch Cured.

By once using Lee's Sovereign Ointment. The proprietor informs those persons and families who are suffering under this disease, against the infection of which no person is safe, that if this ointment is used at night on going to bed it never fails to perform a cure by the following morning, as thousands who have used it during the last ten years can testify. The peculiar excellencies of this infallible remedy for the itch, above every other, are the certainty of the cure by a single application; the ingredients being so innocent as to be applied with perfect safety to the tenderest infant; and its being not only free from any offensive smell, but equally agreeable with the pleasantest pomatum.

HAMILTON'S CELEBRATED WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Among the symptoms attending Worms are, disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—bad and corrupt gums—itching in the nose, and about the seat—convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes a privation of speech—irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious—purging with slimy and foetid stools—vomiting—large and hard belly—pains and sickness at the stomach—pains in the head and thighs, with lowness of spirits—slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—a dry cough—excessive thirst—sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and some times the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
